

The summer poolside festival 2010

On a hot summer evening, after coming off from work, members of the Dental department rushed home and put on their favorite bathing suits and bikinis, you wanna know why? Because tonight is the annual summer poolside festival!!! The party was held at the hospital's swimming pool and a square meal was prepared for everyone. After everybody is stuffed, it's time for all kinds of exciting water sports!

The summer poolside festival included all kinds of events, such as 50 meter waterboard, 200 meter relay race for both men and women. The Fun competition included boat racing and surfboard jumping.

After this festival we found out that there are some super swimmers in our dental department!

Because the waterboat contest was so intense, no matter you're wearing a bathing suit or not, everyone eventually jumped in the pool and fought for their department, including some very senior visiting staffs!
